

Independent Research is a specialist in the analysis of second-line stocks. For instance, we were the first institute to cover the entire SDAX and Entry Standard segment.

We stay in close touch with the executive boards of the small cap companies and investors in second-line stocks. We offer various services ranging from the coverage of companies to promising industries and entire market segments. We also organise road shows, conferences, and market screenings.

In our Small Cap Research division we service several banks and investors.
